SIX LIVES LOST IN A SHIPWRECK

Result of the Violent Storm on the Great Lakes.

AN ATTEMPT TO REACH SHORE

Lifeboat Capsizes and Only Two of the Eight Occupants Are Saved. Vessel Fought Gallantly Against the Storm in Vain, Being Driven Upon a Reef—Members of the Crew Who Remained on the Ship Saved.

Detroit, Oct. 14.—In the wreck of the steamer George Stone of Cleveland, O., on Point Pelee, Ont., six lives were lost, a lifeboat containing Captain Paul Howell, Peter Dalley of Erie, Pa., who was a passenger, and six members of the crew being captured in an attempt to go to shore for assistance. Two of the crew clung to the overturned lifeboat four hours until they drifted ashore. The remaining ten men of the crew were taken off the wreck by the Steamer F. I. Osborne of Cleveland and brought to Detroit. One of the ten brought to Detroit, John Diedrich, was knocked into the Detroit river by a crowd of strikers on the docks and narrowly escaped drowning after his arrival here. The dead are:

Captain Paul Howell, Erie, Pa.; Peter Dalley, Erie, Pa., a passenger, and friend of the captain; William Henry, South Chicago, Ill., second engineer; Cook Lucas, Cleveland; William Boyer, Cleveland, an officer; watchman, name not known.

The George Stone belonged to M. A. Bradley of Cleveland. She was uninsured. The fall end of the recent lake gale is breaking the vessel to pieces.

All day Tuesday the vessel fought gallantly against the storm, but toward evening the pumps were unequal to the task of removing the water.

Wednesday afternoon the Stone struck with a terrific jar upon the head and bar known as Grubb's reef, nearly five miles off the western shore of Point Pelee.

The vessel began to break up forward, and the crew abandoned the life house and took up their station aft.

Fire added to the dangers, the pilot house being burned to the deck before the blaze was subdued by the waves and spray.

Captain Howell then picked a crew to go ashore in the lifeboat after assistance. The boat capsized and only two of the eight occupants were saved. The ten men left on the ship were rescued by the steamer F. M. Osborn of Cleveland.

PATRICK MCCARREN VERY ILL

Brooklyn Politician Undergoes Operation for Appendicitis.

New York, Oct. 14.—State Senator Patrick H. McCarrren, the Democratic party leader of Brooklyn, was suddenly eliminated from further participation in the local political campaign by an acute attack of appendicitis, which required an immediate operation.

He was taken ill while at work in his headquarters at the Clarendon hotel and was removed at once to St. Catherine's hospital, Brooklyn, where an operation was performed. His condition is serious, but not necessarily critical.

Senator McCarrren had been very conspicuous in the political fight now on. Only Tuesday he delivered two speeches in Brooklyn, one before the Italian societies and one at the All Souls Congregational church, in which he discussed the direct primaries question.

Realizing the importance of having an immediate substitute to take up the leadership, Arthur C. Salmon, treasurer of the Kings County Democratic committee, issued a call for a meeting of the county executive committee to take action.

Lake Vessel Ashore.

Duluth, Oct. 14.—Reports of wrecks from the storm which has been raging for the past three days on all of the Great Lakes are beginning to be reported. Considering the extent and fierceness of the gale fewer disasters have been heard from than had been anticipated by vesselmen. The whale steamer J. B. Trevor is ashore but is not leaking.

Commissioner Warner to Resign. Decatur, Ill., Oct. 14.—It was announced here that Colonel Vespasian Warner, commissioner of pensions, is soon to resign his office. Colonel Warner is at his home in Clinton, where he will remain for two weeks. His action is caused by the demands made upon him for personal attention to his large private interests in Central Illinois.

Johnson the Favorite.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—Seats for the championship match at the Mission street arena on Saturday between Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchel have been placed on sale. From the way the sale began it is believed that all seats will be sold. The betting remains at odds of 10 to 4 with Johnson on the long end.

DEMONSTRATION IN PARIS

Socialists Protest Against Execution of Ferrer.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Ten thousand men headed by M. Juarez, the leader of the Socialists in the chamber of deputies, and M. Vallant, a Socialist deputy, marched to the Spanish embassy, where it was the intention to hold a demonstration in protest against the execution of Ferrer. The police surrounded the building, however, and repulsed the surging crowd after a sharp struggle. The procession then returned through the boulevards with shouts of "Down with Alfonso! Down with Maura!"

Later the rowdy element formed again in the vicinity of the embassy and tore up the lamp posts, trees and benches and erected a barricade. The rioters then proceeded with the work of destruction, which included the burning of three auto busses.

M. Lepine, the prefect of police, soon arrived at the head of reinforcements and was received with a volley of shots from the crowd. His escape from death or serious injury was by a narrow margin. The cavalry charged, using their sabres freely, and stormed the barricade. The police arrested a dangerous Spanish anarchist, Emmanuel Dellatorre, who admits having fired at M. Lepine.

Another demonstration of anarchists took place at Clichy, in the outskirts of Paris, but here the manifestants were quickly dispersed. There were numerous demonstrations throughout the provinces, and the departmental council of Reuchettes du Rhone adjourned as a token of mourning for Ferrer.

A policeman who was shot during the demonstration died in the hospital. Another policeman is in a serious condition.

Owing to the strict censorship at Madrid nothing with reference to the effect the execution of Ferrer has had in Madrid reached Paris.

Wholesale Poisonings.

Smolensk, Russia, Oct. 14.—Wholesale poisonings have occurred in the Dukhovstichina district from the eating of ergotized rye. At least fifteen persons have died from this cause.

Killed by Steel Plate.

Duluth, Oct. 14.—Edward Weinglin, a machinist's helper, was accidentally killed at Proctor. He was employed in the shops of the Duluth, Missabe and Northern road. A crane was being used to handle a piece of steel plate. The plate suddenly and unexpectedly slipped and fell upon Weinglin, killing him almost instantly.

MAKES ATTACK ON GAYNOR

Robert Elder Scores Democratic Nominee for Mayor.

New York, Oct. 14.—The principal engagement in the political warfare preceding the municipal election was a sensational attack upon William J. Gaynor, Democratic nominee for mayor, by Robert H. Elder, assistant district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn), who has represented the state in a fight to enforce the anti-betting laws on the race tracks. The attack, in the form of a statement, was designed to support and supply details to the charges made Monday night by William M. Ivins, a Republican, but a Hearst supporter, that Gaynor in his capacity as a justice of the supreme court has sought to defeat the purpose of the anti-gambling statute.

Mr. Elder says that he, too, had learned of the alleged conference of Justice Gaynor, State Senator Patrick H. McCarrren and Eugene Wood of Brooklyn, at which the constitutionality of the race track law was discussed, and, as is alleged, a test case contemplated upon which Justice Gaynor was to render a decision.

Mr. Elder tells how he attempted to frustrate this alleged effort to get a test case before Gaynor and how the justice, in connection with a case of betting on golf, eventually declared that it was not an offense to make a bet on the race track.

BANK ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT

But Bold Bandit Fails to Make His Escape.

ENDS LIFE WHEN CORNERED

Fashionably Dressed Robber Shoots Himself in the Mouth When Driven to Bay by His Pursuer—Had Looted Bank of Five Hundred Dollars and Was Trying to Escape in an Automobile—Alleged Accomplice Captured.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—A fashionably dressed bandit who robbed the savings bank of D. M. Erskine & Co. in Highland Park, Ill., an aristocratic village on the lake shore twenty-five miles north of Chicago, committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth when driven to bay by the Highland Park marshal and a posse of citizens.

A companion of the robber who had driven him to the bank in an automobile was captured immediately following the robbery of the bank, forcing the principal perpetrator in the daring daylight crime to flee on foot. He was engaged in a running duel with Town Marshal John Sheehan who was the target for many bullets from the fugitive bandit's revolver, one of which went through the sleeve of his coat. After running several blocks and failing to drive back his pursuer, the robber ran into a shed, closely followed by Sheehan. When he saw Sheehan enter the shed with his revolver leveled at his head, the fugitive put the muzzle of his own revolver in his mouth and fired a shot which resulted in his death almost immediately.

Neither he nor his companion is known. The man arrested, who appeared in the guise of a chauffeur, positively refused after his arrest to discuss the robbery or to disclose anything concerning his own or his companion's identity.

Conducted in Spectacular Manner.

The robbery was conducted in a deliberate and spectacular manner, the bandit securing about $500 in gold coin and bills after he had forced John C. Duffy, cashier of the bank, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald, the bookkeeper, and Joseph F. Richards, the receiving teller, into the cashier's cage just after the closing of business for the day.

In the morning the robber had come into the bank and asked Cashier Duffy the whereabouts of a Mr. Williams. Duffy directed the man to Libertyville, Ill.

When the stranger returned in the afternoon Cashier Duffy then became suspicious and hurriedly took a large amount of money and locked it in the vault. Several hundred dollars still were in the cage when Duffy was confronted by the robber, who leveled a revolver and said, "call everyone in here into that cage or I'll blow your head off. Hurry up."

Duffy, unarmed, complied with the demand. Miss Fitzgerald and Richards came into the cage while the intruder helped himself to all the money in sight. He carefully tucked the gold and bills into his pockets, and then exclaimed "If any of you attempt to follow me I will kill you."

He started for the door and Duffy immediately telephoned the marshal's office across the street. By the time the robber reached the automobile Marshal Sheehan was running toward the bank. At sight of him the robber broke into a run and citizens held the chauffeur. The chase after the fugitive was a thrilling one, but ended in his suicide within a few minutes. All the money taken from the bank was found in his clothing.

NO ANSWER FROM PRESIDENT

Mr. Crane Has Received No Reply to His Dispatch.

Washington, Oct. 14.—No response has been received by Charles R. Crane from President Taft to the dispatch he sent the latter on Tuesday tendering his resignation as United States minister designate to China. Mr. Crane did not appear to think it strange that he had had no word from the president, expressing the belief that Mr. Taft probably had been "too much on the go" to give consideration to the matter.

Mr. Crane met the newspaper correspondents, but he had no new light to throw upon his case. Asked if he expected to stay here for a time, he said he was uncertain as to his movements, these depending, it is thought, upon future developments.

"There are other places besides Washington," said Mr. Crane, "where a fellow can have a good time."

ANCIENT GOLD BRICK GAME

Worked on Millionaire Land Man by Two Confidence Men in Minneapolis—One of the Swindlers Is Thought to Be Jamie Bates, Who Is Classed as One of the Cleverest Crooks in the Country.

Minneapolis, Oct. 14.—H. F. Chaffee, millionaire land and grain man of Ardenia, N. D., was victimized out of $25,000 by the ancient gold brick game in this city by two clever swindlers. Mr. Chaffee found himself the possessor of eighty pounds of yellow metal, presumably brass, worth probably $15, and two small steamer trunks, while the police department of Minneapolis found itself confronted with one of the boldest swindles ever perpetrated in the Northwest.

Mr. Chaffee is heavily interested in the John Miller Grain company of Minneapolis and Duluth, is president of the Ardenia and Sharon Land company of Ardenia, and is interested in several other concerns, and owns large parcels of land. He is broken-hearted over the affair.

Mr. Chaffee handed over the twenty-five $1,000 bills late in the afternoon and about an hour later became aware that he had been duped. Both swindlers escaped.

Chaffee met a man named Armstrong two or three days ago at Ardenia. The swindler looked for an "uncle" named Chaffee, but happened to run across his future victim by "mistake." While talking he dropped hints of being short of cash. In a guileless manner Armstrong told of a wondrous mine which he and his half-breed friend, "Oro," owned in Mexico.

He told of the search for the mine which was held against his property. He told of two gold ingots, worth $40,000 at the government mint, which he held in two trunks in Minneapolis, ready to be placed as security for $25,000. Chaffee was more than interested and with his son, E. W. Chaffee, himself an assayer, came to the Mill City with Armstrong.

They drilled into one of the gold bricks and took the shavings to an assayer named W. H. Harper, who tested them and found them to be pure gold. The party returned to Armstrong's hotel and the deal was closed.

Armstrong, Harper and Chaffee's $25,000 are missing and investigation showed Chaffee's "gold bricks" to be brass.

In the Bertillon room at the central station Mr. Chaffee picked out a photograph which he identified as that of Armstrong. It was the police photo of Jamie Bates, one of the most notorious confidence workers in the United States and a much wanted man.

WILL CLOSE ALL SALOONS

Mexicans to Shut Them Down During Visit of Presidents.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 14.—The Mexican authorities have issued orders closing every saloon in Ciudad Juarez, opposite El Paso, from Friday noon, five hours before the arrival of President Diaz, until Sunday morning, ten hours after he leaves.

This is done, it was explained, as a precautionary measure for the protection of Presidents Taft and Diaz.

The federal authorities in Ciudad Juarez have also issued an order forbidding the discharge of fireworks of any character during the visit of the two presidents and forbids crowds standing close to the reviewing stands.

The secret service men of both Mexico and the United States are constantly conferring and watching all suspicious characters. Chief of Police Castro from Mexico City arrived and joined the chief of the Mexican secret service, Zuniga, on looking after police protection on the Mexican side of the river.

OUTSIDE SUPPORT WELCOME

China Desires It in Her Dealings With Japan.

Peking, Oct. 14.—Japan has taken official cognizance of the reported efforts of British and American interests to arrange with China to build the Kinchow-Tsitsihar railway, as it is considered that the proposed construction of this road has grown out of the defeat of the plan to build the Jilinmuntun-Pakumen railroad. Japan has formally notified China that while it does not intend to obstruct the government, yet it will maintain its right to be consulted with respect to Manchurian railways. Though Japan does not claim the right to veto, it reserves decision with regard to subsequent action.

Recent events in connection with the recall to Washington of Charles R. Crane, the American minister designate to China, precipitated Japan's action. It is understood that the action of the American secretary of state followed Japan's solicitations, not only on account of Mr. Crane's alleged utterances, but because of American commercial activities in Manchuria under a former American official whom the Japanese regard as exceedingly active in the anti-Japanese movement in Manchuria, following the war.

The Japanese appear to be alarmed at the American activities, which seem to bear the stamp of governmental direction. The Chinese government defends the textual Manchurian agreement, but it is admitted that China would welcome outside support.

WARM WELCOME GIVEN TO

His Statehood View
People of Arizona

Prescott, Ariz., Oct. 14.—President Taft won a hearty welcome into Arizona by proclaiming wherever he went that he was heartily in favor of statehood for each of the territories of Arizona and New Mexico.

When the joyousness that greeted this statement had died away Mr. Taft had some sober words for his audience in which he sought to impress upon them the necessity for deliberation in framing a state constitution.

He declared that their constitution should follow the simplicity of the Constitution of the United States and should be merely fundamental laws with simple rules of limitations. Mr. Taft urged the people of Arizona to profit by what he termed the mistakes of Oklahoma in constitution making. He characterized the Oklahoma constitution as a "Zoological Garden of Cranks."

The president's train was whirled along at breakneck speed through scorching desert wastes of sage brush and cactus.

At times the alkali stirred up by the rushing cars filtered in a cloud through ventilating screens and closed windows and was well nigh stifling. The sky was cloudless and the sun shone with torrid intensity. Throughout the day the horizon was lined with the jagged rusty peaks of sun-baked mountains shrouded in azure haze. Occasionally, however, the train rushed through a veritable garden of fruit and flowers, where the touch of water had worked its wonders. Although the president had a typical glimpse of the Southwest. At Phoenix and Prescott, where he made his principal stops and at each intermediate station where he appeared for a moment or two on the rear platform of his car, he was greeted by the cosmopolitan people of the territory.

The anachronism of Indians in their primitive blanket wrappings standing in the midst of a group of high powered automobiles became common before the day was over.

The territorial officials, headed by Governor Sloan, met the president's train at Yuma before and will continue with him until after his visit to the Grand Canon. Postmaster General Hitchcock joined the party. With him was Victor Mason, who had charge of the Republican national headquarters in New York during the campaign of last fall.

Ward McAllister's Widow Dead.

New York, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Sarah T. McAllister, widow of Ward McAllister, famous in his day as a leader of New York society, died at her home on Madison avenue in her eightieth year.

FEW DOSES END KIDNEY TROUBLE

Lame Back, Bladder Distress and Other Results of Out-of-Order Kidneys Vanish

URINARY TROUBLE IS ENDED

Just a Few Doses Now Will Make the Entire Kidney and Urinary System Act Fine

Usually sufferers from backache, bladder trouble, or out-of-order kidneys, feel relieved after several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, inflamed or swollen eyelids, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, heart palpitations, dizziness, sleeplessness, listless, worn-out feeling, and other symptoms of inactive, sluggish kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night) smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

Feeling miserable and worried is needless because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order kidneys and bladder, distributing its cleansing, healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected and completes the cure before you realize it. The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary derangement, or feel rheumatism, begin taking this harmless medicine with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price, any where else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

CON O'NEIL WAS HIT BY TRAIN

Died Twelve Hours Afterwards as Result of Injuries Received While Walking on Track

LEAVES A DESTITUTE FAMILY

Wife and Five Children are Left With No Means and Winter is Approaching

Con O'Neil, residing at 1006 Fir street, died at St. Joseph's hospital last night as the result of injuries received by being struck by the north bound Minnesota & International freight train about 1:30 or 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. O'Neil, who had started to walk up to the dam to try and get work, was walking along the track near the cemetery when struck. He was seen by parties living near the track and an ambulance telephoned for and he was taken to the hospital, where it was found that his back was broken. He lingered until 3 o'clock last night and died. He leaves a wife and five children in very impoverished circumstances.

There was so far as known, no eye witnesses to the accident. None of the train men knew of it and the victim himself said he did not know how it happened. Edwin Davis, residing at 611 Third avenue North-east, was walking along the track and saw a man walking along ahead of him and of the train, but when he looked up again the man was not in sight and he supposed he had stepped to the other side of the track. Davis turned off the track and did not see O'Neil nor hear of the accident until later.

O'Neil was seen by the family of a man named Larson, who resides at 303 Second avenue. The woman was afraid to go to the track and notified Mrs. N. J. Kaufman, who lives across the street from Larson's. Frank McMahon, a neighbor, was summoned and O'Neil was carried to the Larson home where he remained until the ambulance could be summoned to take him to St. Joseph's hospital.

O'Neil was on the foreman's side of the track and it is supposed that he stepped onto the track so close ahead of the train that he could not be seen by the engineer.

Mrs. O'Neil's parents are said to be well fixed financially and it is reported that they have repeatedly stated that they would care for her and the children if she would leave him, and it is thought they will assist her now.

Lake Superior to the Mississippi River to be Discussed by Commission—Brainerd Represented

Governor A. O. Eberhart has summoned the Lake Superior and Mississippi River Canal commission to meet on Tuesday, Nov. 9, in the governor's office, St. Paul, to take up the work laid out by the legislature. The act creating the commission directs it to investigate the feasibility and practicability of a ship or barge canal from Lake Superior to the Mississippi river.

The legislature outlined a comprehensive program but failed to make any appropriation and state officials anticipate that little can be done of practical value. Members of the legislature agreed last winter that a system of inland waterways would have a tendency to reduce and equalize freight rates and generally indorsed all the navigation schemes proposed but no estimates were presented of the amounts necessary to construct a canal such as proposed or any part of the other waterways suggested.

The commission is composed of Loren W. Collins and A. E. Cutler, of Minneapolis; Captain A. H. Reed, Glencoe; and James M. Elder, Brainerd.

The high school foot ball team will play the Aitkin high school at the McKay grounds Saturday. The locals have been greatly strengthened since the Duluth game and the Aitkin team is in for a severe beating. Quinn Parker has been coaching during the past week and has worked the boys into a good fighting machine. He states that after they saw up and split eleven cords of wood which he intends to put them at, they certainly ought to give a good account of themselves.

The game Saturday will start at 3:30 sharp.

FIRST CAUCUS WAS LIVELY ONE

Citizens of Deerwood Met Wednesday Night to Select Candidates for Village Officials

H. J. HAGE FOR PRESIDENT

Other Nominations Arouse Contention—Satisfactory Ticket is Finally Selected

Deerwood, Minn., Oct. 13—The citizens of Deerwood held their first caucus tonight for the selection of candidates for village officials. While there was some divergence of opinion as to the methods and some contention as to the candidates for trustees, there was on the whole as much harmony as could be expected.

The meeting was called to order by N. P. Emil Carlson and H. J. Hage nominated C. G. Osterlund for chairman.

Mr. Carlson, H. J. Hage, Harry Patterson, Dr. Reid and others addressed the meeting urging harmony and care in the selection of candidates. N. P. Emil Carlson then presented a list of candidates for the consideration of the caucus, which caused some adverse comment from some who believed the candidates should be selected one at a time. Dr. Sewall urged that the selection should be made by ballot rather than by viva voce vote.

H. J. Hage was nominated for president of the village council. There were no other nominations and the nomination was made unanimous.

F. E. Oberg was nominated for village clerk and there was no opposition, the nomination being made by acclamation.

The nomination of three trustees or councilmen was then taken up and the following names were placed in nomination: O. J. Carlson, Robert Archibald, G. A. Anderson, Peter Brand, J. M. Hilliar and Wm. Taylor. A ballot was ordered resulting as follows:

O. J. Carlson	23
Robert Archibald	1
G. A. Anderson	27
Peter Brand	38
J. M. Hilliar	22
Wm. Taylor	14

O. J. Carlson, Peter Brand and G. A. Anderson were declared duly nominated for trustees.

For constable a ballot was ordered with the following result:

Michael Lamey	17
O. E. Cunningham	11
E. Brindos	6
Oscar Erickson	28
Ed. Greenhagen	8
Charles Hanson	1
James Magee	6
C. Blomain	2
James Hilyar	6

Michael Lamey and Oscar Erickson were declared nominated.

A. Wasserzieher was nominated for village treasurer after which the caucus adjourned.

The first village election of the village of Deerwood will take place Tuesday next, the polls being open from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m., and will be held in the room in the rear of the post office.

LINDBERGH NOT INTERESTED

Congressman from the Sixth Denies That He has Purchased Paper and Gives His Reasons

The Minneapolis Tribune contains the following interview with Hon. C. A. Lindbergh, of Little Falls, congressman from the Sixth district, in which he denies that he is interested in the purchase of the Arena in this city and gives his reasons why the public should know the report sent out was untrue. Mr. Lindbergh's statement that the newspapers have treated him with fairness and given him the freedom of publishing what he wished, is a recognition of his gratitude toward the press of the district and a strong point in support of his statement that he does not need a personal organ. The interview follows:

"I have not bought a paper in Brainerd," said Mr. Lindbergh today. "The people there who know me, know that I have all the work I can do without incubating a newspaper. Some people probably sent the report to the Twin city papers so it might be copied in the Brainerd papers and create a little excitement.

"A personal organ of my own, under the conditions that exist in the Sixth district, would be absurd, for ever since I was first elected the entire press has treated me with fairness and generosity, giving me the freedom of the papers to publish anything I have seen fit. Even more, the papers have generally given publicity to my speeches, both in and out of congress. Under these conditions, what advantage would it be for me to have a private organ of my own? On the contrary it would be decidedly opposed to my interests as the press would not care to extensively publish articles from a personal organ."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Yankee Doodle Stock Company

Another large audience saw the Yankee Doodle Stock company present "The Queen of the White Slaves" at the Park opera house last night and expressed its appreciation in rounds of laughter and applause.

Tonight the bill will be "At Canby Cross Roads," a rural comedy-drama with the scenes laid in the mountains of Kentucky. The plot deals with the love of a girl whose families are at feud, a situation which in romantic Kentucky is not new, but which, written by a man to whom the Bluegrass state was a home and the habits and characteristics of its people is a second nature, is refreshingly new and true to life in the smallest detail. A clever and deliciously droll line of comedy runs through the piece and the old fashioned country dance in the fourth act is a scream from start to finish.

All specialties and orchestral numbers will be changed tonight as usual.

It's a Mighty Truth But as Old as Business

THAT real economy in clothes-buying is striking the right average in price.

The penny-wise purchaser who puts price above everything else—to whom the dollar in hand means more than the clothes on his back—he goes wrong every time.

He buys at the lowest price and the value is always less than the price is low.

Other men forget economy entirely. They forget that after a certain price is reached additional money is simply paid for the fictitious value of the tailor's name and standing.

We offer in the new garments we are showing direct from the truest economy in quality clothes. The prices range from $15.00 to $25.00 or $30.00.

And every dollar that you pay for these Kuppenheimer Clothes brings back an actual value in return—a value based on real style, rich worth of fabric, specialized tailoring and expert finish.

Let us show you the clothes and prove this economy for yourself.

HOW INSECTS BREATHE.

System of Tubes That Run the Length of Their Bodies.

Landlubber animals have lungs, and sea creatures have gills. But insects have neither one nor the other. They have a complex system of tubes running throughout the whole length of the body by means of which air is conveyed to every part of the system. As they are destined to contain nothing but air, they are strongly supported to guard against collapse from pressure. This support is furnished by means of a fine thread running spirally within the walls of the tube, much in the same way that a garden hose is protected with wire. There are generally two of these tubes which run the whole length of the insect's body.

Many flies, as larvae, live in the water. Arranged along each side of their bodies is a series of exceedingly thin plates, into each of which runs a series of blood vessels. These plates act and absorb the oxygen contained in the water. The tail ends in three feathery-like projections. By means of these the larva causes currents of water to flow over the gills, and thus their efficiency is increased.

The gnat also lives in the water as a larva. But it has no gills; therefore it cannot breathe the oxygen in the water, but must breathe air. This is done by means of a spiracle situated at the tip of its tail. Indeed, the tail is prolonged into a little tube. The larva floats along head downward in the water with this tube just above the surface to enable it to breathe. After some time it is provided with two little tubes, which act in the same manner.—Chicago Tribune.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach is utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 61 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Franklin as a Swimmer.

In 1726 Benjamin Franklin was working as a printer at Watts', near Lincoln Inn Fields, and taught two shopmates to swim "at twice going into the river." With them and some of their friends from the country he paid a visit by water to Chelsea, and "in our return," he recorded, "at the request of the company, whose curiosity Wygate had excited, I stripped and leaped into the river and swam from near Chelsea to Blackfriars, performing on the way many feats of activity, both upon and under the water, that surprised and pleased those to whom they were novelties."—London Tatler.

FRENCH MARRIAGES.

All Probable Future Events Arranged For in Advance.

On the appointed evening I arrived at the given time, and after an excellent dinner, at which all members of both families were present, we repaired to the great drawing room, where the chairs had been arranged in a semicircle about two small, round tables. Presently two grave old gentlemen, the family notaries, who had not been seen to smile during the whole dinner, took their seats in front of the tables, and when we were all assembled the elder commenced to read a long memoir, which he announced he had compiled with the help of his colleague. Then, to my utter amazement, he began to name all the possessions of the future bride and bridegroom—so many bonds and mortgages, so many houses, farms, woodlands, prairies, articles of personal adornment, furniture and jewels; the ways in which they might be used or disposed of, what would happen in case no children were born of the marriage, in case of death of one or the other of the parties. In fact, all the misfortunes, all the most terrible and saddest events, had been foreseen, and cold chills began running down my back as I heard each new case mentioned. I was indignant. I positively revolted. Why were miserable questions of business allowed to overshadow the charming union of these two young people, who had known and loved each other since childhood and whose true and pure affection was innocent of all monetary interests? Could not all have been spared them?

The next day I frankly opened my heart to Jeanne and her mother, explaining the sensations I had experienced the previous evening and saying that in my country, when two persons were about to marry, as long as there was love on both sides and the man was able to support his wife all such questions were usually left undisputed.

They both listened to me somewhat astonished, and then Mme. de R—, whose great good sense has always convinced me, replied smilingly: "But, my dear, for us marriage is not only the joining of two young and loving hearts. We go further and consider the generations to come, the founding of a new family—a home. As every one knows, the first years are often the most difficult, and we therefore take precautions to smooth the path of our children by settling in their presence all business matters, once and for ever, and arranging things so that the new life may develop under the best of circumstances."—Scribner's Magazine.

THEY WERE STUBBORN.

A Story Illustrating the "Setness" of the Cornishman.

Your Cornishman can be very "set" and stubborn. His determination of spirit is more remarkable than admirable at times, though it may be amusing.

Mr. Hook, the late royal academician, was once, says Mr. W. H. Hudson in his book on the "Land's End," on the sands at Whitesand bay, working at a marine picture, when two natives came up and planted themselves just behind him. There was nothing the artist hated more than to be watched by strangers over his shoulders in this way, and pretty soon he wheeled around on them and angrily asked them how long they were going to stand there.

His manner served to arouse their spirit, and they replied brusquely that they were going to stay as long as they thought proper.

He insisted on knowing just how long they were going to stay there to his annoyance, and by and by, after some more loud and angry discussion, one of them incautiously declared they would stand at that very spot for an hour.

"Do you mean that?" shouted Hook, pulling out his watch.

Yes, they returned, they would not stir one inch from that spot for an hour.

"Very well," he said and pulled up his easel; then, marching off to a distance of thirty yards, he set it up again and resumed his painting.

And there, within thirty yards of his back, the two men stood for one hour and a quarter, for, as they did not have a watch, they were afraid of going away before the hour had expired. Then they marched off.

EARLY SAVINGS BANKS

First Modern One Was Opened In Scotland In 1810.

STARTED BY HENRY DUNCAN.

He Was a Presbyterian Clergyman and Was a Friend of Thomas Carlyle and of the Celebrated Dr. Chalmers—The Rapid Spread of the System.

The first savings bank to accept deposits in small amounts and to pay cumulative interest was opened in Scotland in May, 1810. Several institutions for savings existed in foreign countries prior to 1810, but there was nothing in any respect like the modern savings bank. England, for example, early witnessed the appearance of numerous small charitable associations and institutions which undertook to invest the savings of their members.

The first modern savings bank, however, was originated by Henry Duncan, a Presbyterian clergyman of Dumfries, Scotland, a friend of Thomas Carlyle and of the celebrated Dr. Chalmers, who throughout his active life was interested in various schemes of practical benevolence. In 1810, after he had already set forth his views on the subject in the Dumfries Courier, he established the Ruthwell Savings bank. His purpose, as expressed in a memoir published by his son in 1888, was to induce the mass of people of his time to realize the value of the little savings which by economy could be put away.

The Dumfries community of lowland Scotch was a good one in which to start such a scheme. During the first year savings to the amount of £150 were deposited in the Ruthwell Savings bank and in the next two years £171 and £241, respectively. By 1814 the deposits amounted to £922.

As the success of Mr. Duncan's scheme became known similar institutions were organized elsewhere in Scotland and England. One of the earliest was the Edinburgh Savings bank, still a thriving institution.

The Ruthwell bank had some peculiarities which distinguished it from the institutions that were developed later. There was an annuity fund, for instance. Most remarkable of all, before anybody's first deposit was received inquiries had to be made as to his age, family affairs and previous moral conduct. According to what was discovered the management decided, first, whether his deposit should be accepted and, second, what rate of interest should be allowed him.

The Ruthwell bank's funds were placed with the British Linen company, which allowed 5 per cent interest on them. Most of the depositors received 4 per cent, but to those of three years' standing whose deposits amounted to £5 or more 5 per cent was allowed, provided the depositor wanted to get married or that he was fifty-six years old or that in other respects it would be especially advantageous for him to receive more interest. The first savings bank was under no obligation to allow depositors to withdraw funds when they wanted. There was a provision that "when the depositor shall have become incapable of maintaining himself from sickness or otherwise a weekly allowance may be made to him at the option of the court of directors out of the money he has deposited."

The Edinburgh Savings bank was much simpler in its organization than the Ruthwell and more closely resembled the savings banks of the present day. Each depositor received the same rate of interest. There was no preliminary investigation of his character, and he could withdraw his deposits at pleasure. The rate of interest was uniformly 4 per cent.

Widespread interest was aroused in the early experiments in Great Britain. Farseeing people realized that the new institutions were destined to add largely to general prosperity and happiness. This opinion was eloquently voiced by the great Scotch critic Francis Jeffrey, who, writing in the Edinburgh Review, said: "It would be difficult, we fear, to convince either the people or their rulers that the spread of savings banks is of far more importance and far more likely to increase the happiness and even the greatness of the nation than the most brilliant success of its arms or the most stupendous improvement of its trade and its agriculture. And yet we are persuaded that it is so."

Laws safeguarding savings banks were passed as these institutions began to show vitality and clearly needed regulation. Trustees and managers were early prohibited from making any profit in connection with these banks.

The English savings bank movement rapidly spread throughout the continent, France, Germany, Denmark and Italy successively taking up the idea. Everywhere with modifications proper to the nationality it has proved successful.

The first American savings bank was opened in Philadelphia in 1816 and was called the Philadelphia Saving Fund society. The same year one was established in Boston, New York following in 1819, and in 1820 there were ten in the country, having 8,635 depositors and $1,138,570 in deposits.—Boston Globe.

FORBES WINS THE LAHM CUP

Ballooning Also Breaks All Speed Records.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 14.—Winning the Lahm cup for the longest flight made in a balloon under the auspices of the Aero Club of America, and breaking all speed records for long distance flights, A. Holland Forbes of New York and Max Fleischmann of Cincinnati landed in Chesterfield county, twenty miles south of Richmond. The trip was made in the balloon New York, in which Mr. Forbes won the duration contest at Indianapolis.

Starting from the gas works in St. Louis the distance of 731 1/2 miles was made in nineteen hours and fifteen minutes, at an average rate of 38 miles an hour. Soon after noon an apparently large body of water was seen ahead and a large town came into view below. Mr. Forbes and his companion, realizing the fast time they were making, thought the water might be Chesapeake bay and the city of Norfolk and adjudged it better to descend before the ocean was reached. The hazy weather helped to deceive the aeronauts in this respect and it was not until after a landing was effected that they discovered that the town was Petersburg and the water the James river.

Mr. Forbes and Mr. Fleischmann came to Richmond as soon as they could get their balloon to a railroad point. Mr. Fleischmann has left for his home in Cincinnati and Mr. Forbes has gone to New York.

PITTSBURG WINS THE FIFTH GAME

Takes the Lead in Championship Contest.

Pittsburg, Oct. 14.—Pittsburg took the lead in the great battle now being waged for the world's baseball championship by defeating Detroit, 8 to 4, in the fifth game of the big series at Forbes Field. This gives the National league champions three victories to two for the winners of the American league pennant. The scene will shift to Detroit again, where the sixth, and possibly the last game of the series will be played. By winning the sixth game Pittsburg will clinch the world's championship, but if Detroit wins the series will be tied again and a seventh game will be necessary.

Despite its announcement that it would meet in Detroit today to decide where the seventh game is to be played, the commission met Wednesday and decided to play the crucial game, if it is needed, in Detroit. Gary Herrmann flipped a coin and President B. B. Johnson of the American league won and chose Detroit.

The game was played with the thermometer hovering between 35 and 40 degrees above zero. A chilling wind from the southwest swept across the field, but the immense grand stand protected the great majority of the spectators. Despite the untoward conditions 21,705 persons saw the game and the receipts were $32,173. Of this sum the national commission receives $3,217.30, and each club owner $14,477.80. The players no longer share in the receipts, as the first four games in the series.

This makes the receipts for the five games $156,108, and the total attendance was 117,347. Each club owner has now received $36,786.15 and the national commission $15,610.80. A home run by Manager Fred Clarke, which scored Byrne and Leach in front of him, turned the tide of victory to Pittsburg in the seventh inning, after Detroit had tied the score at 3 to 3 by scoring two in the sixth.

Detroit had two home runs to its credit, but neither came with any one on bases. D. Jones, the first man up in the first inning, made the first home run. Sam Crawford made the other Detroit home run in the eighth.

Charles Adams, the phenomenal youngster of the Pittsburg team, achieved the high distinction of being the only pitcher to win twice in the series. Adams clearly outpitched Summers, who worked the first seven innings for Detroit. Adams allowed six hits—two home runs, two two-baggers and two singles, while Summers was hit safely ten times, including one home run and one double.

One Killed and Eight Injured.

McNell Tex., Oct. 14.—Fireman O. J. Sutton was killed and four trainmen and four passengers, all Texans, were injured when an engine and two cars of the Austin and Northwestern railway plunged through a burning bridge over Watters creek, near here. A heavy mist obscured the bridge and the engineer could not stop his train in time to avoid the accident.

Breaking Them to the Yoke.

Edward Lisle, whose "Observations on Husbandry" was published in 1757, described the method employed by his "oxhind" or cattleman to break cattle to the yoke: "He yoked two of the steers, being two yearlings, together and so suffered them to walk about the ground where there were no pits or ditches for them to receive hurt by. He also tied together the bushy parts of their tails, the reason of which was because they should not be able to turn their heads to each other so as to strike one another with their horns or by bending their necks too much by endeavoring to face one another and then striving break their necks." In this condition the oxhind led them go on the ground, if without holes or ditches, all night or else turned them into an empty open barn so yoked and thus treated them two or three times before he worked them.

Could Not Get Insured

Until kidney disease was cured by DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS

Most railroad men swear by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills as the most satisfactory treatment for their special ailments—kidney disease and constipation.

This railroad man could not get life insurance until cured of kidney disease by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Here is his letter:

Mr. W. M. Bago, Driftwood, Pa., writes: "I am railroaded between Driftwood and Dubois and have been greatly troubled with my kidneys, so that I could not rest or sleep nights. Hearing about Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills I began using them, and can now report that I am entirely cured and in the best health and spirits that I ever enjoyed. By use of this treatment I have gained in weight, my flesh is hard and firm and I have successfully passed an insurance examination, which I could never have done had the kidneys not been thoroughly sound and well."
